

Networking For Future Secures Spot on Arlington County Virginia Information Technology Staff Augmentation and Services Contract

WASHINGTON, December 2, 2019 – Networking For Future, Inc. (NFF) today announced that it has received a five year initial contract to help the Arlington County Virginia Government address information technology (IT) staff augmentation and services needs across the organization.

With the Arlington County Virginia Information Technology (IT) Staff Augmentation and Services Contract award NFF continues to expand its work with state and local government agency customers seeking highly qualified information technology (IT) consultants to develop and implement IT business solution programs.

“With the addition of this IT Staff Augmentation and Services contract to the NFF state and local government agency and educational institution (SLED) contract portfolio, we are increasing our footprint on critical state and local government agency IT staffing programs, as well as displaying the breadth of our talent acquisition capabilities,” said Majid Saadat, president at NFF.

NFF will offer IT staff augmentation and services under the contract that include:

- Network and Telecommunications Systems and Infrastructure
- Security
- Hosting and Server Administration
- Application Development
- Data Analytics and Decision Support
- Electronic Records Management
- ERP HR and Financial Support
- Project/Program Management Support
- Technical Support Services
